

HEYENNE WESTERN BANK

Ashland, Montana

744-2302

State Member Federal Reserve System, Member FDIC

Open Monday-Thursday-9:00 A.M. - 3:00 P.M.
Friday 9:00 A.M. - 5:00 P.M.

Time Savings Certificates

Higher Rates Allowable by Law On Savings &

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES

ALL TYPES OF LOANS

FAST PERSONAL SERVICE

DRIVE-IN WINDOW

AMPLE PARKING SPACE

Your Own Bank For Banking Convenience

New Police Chief, Judge Named

Indian Corn Balls
Not Yet a Lost Art

See article page 1 and 1A

See article page 1 and 1A

First Indian Home In U.S. Paid Off

Thursday July 4, 1974

Montana Cheyenne Press Lane Deer, Montana

A'tome

PAID
Amount $1.00
Date 7/4/74

Tribal Council Nominations Open to July 29

PETITION FOR NOMINATION
We, the undersigned, qualified electors of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe hereby nominate _____ (Name of Nominee) _____ (address of nominee) as a nominee of the Tribal Council of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe from the _____ (Name of District) District, and hereby request that said nominee's name be placed on the Official Ballot for the _____ (Name of description of Election) Election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19____.

We, the undersigned, do also hereby represent and state that we are qualified electors (voters) of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe as of the date of this Petition for Nomination.

Dated and signed by the undersigned electors (voters) on this _____ day of _____, 19____.

(Name of Elector)
(Name of Elector)
(Name of Elector)

At least twenty (20) qualified voters (electors) must sign the above petition. Nomination is in order at an elector (voter)

Tribal election of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19____.

We, the undersigned, do also hereby represent and state that we are qualified electors (voters) of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe as of the date of this Petition for Nomination.

Dated and signed by the undersigned electors (voters) on this _____ day of _____, 19____.

(Name of Elector)
(Name of Elector)
(Name of Elector)

At least twenty (20) qualified voters (electors) must sign the above petition. Nomination is in order at an elector (voter) shall become duly qualified as a nominee for any office. This petition must be filed with the Secretary of the Tribal Council at least thirty-five (35) days before the day of the election, midnight July 29.

ACCEPTANCE OF NOMINATION BY NOMINEE
The undersigned Nominee, nominated by the electors (voters) who signed and executed the above and foregoing Petition for Nomination does hereby accept the nomination for said office described therein and hereby requests that his name be placed upon the official ballot of said election as such nominee.

Date: _____ day of _____, 19____.

(Name of Nominee)

A'tome
Northern Cheyenne Press
Volume 1, Number 12 Thursday, July 18, 1974

Pow-Wow Crowd Largest Ever Queen's Crown To K. Harris

By BEVERLEY GEARY
And traditional pow-wow and brilliant feather flashes, the annual Northern Cheyenne Tribal Pow-Wow closed at 2 A.M. Sunday after marathon dance frolics caused by rain delay on an earlier night.

It was a grand four-day union of dancing, giveaways, feasting and socializing for Pow-Wow Chairman Buddie King, Tribal President Allen Rowland and BIA Superintendent Dr. Alois Spang. The three officials alternated with others in moving the recent event at a fast pace into one event after another.

For King master George Harris, it was the 6th year of running these smoothly events the center pole. And announcer Herbert Houschens, a well-known, skilled dancer, also and found his children.

Chico Lee Many Horses of Ashland, Ed. Edward Quiver of Elkhart, Wyo., was 800 for second, Bill Houschens of Ashland, Wyo., third of ten, and Wilcox LaRue Jr. of Rocky Boy played fourth for a $100 prize.

The $500 top prize in men's slow war dance was won by another Bush Dakota dancer, Wendell Gault of Pine Ridge, S.D. Littlefield of Lame Deer took second and $175, Paul Gault of Pine Ridge took third.

Outgoing queen who reigned four years and went on to become Miss Indian Montana as Linda Wolf Black, home student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris of Lame Deer, Ashland.

The crown of the Northern Cheyenne Tribal Pow-Wow is now worn by Kathleen Harris, 19-year-old Cheyenne and now college student. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harris of Lame Deer, Ashland.

GEORGE BURNS KNOWS EACH ROOP

KATHLEEN HARRIS (L), CARRIES HOME POW-WOW QUEEN TROPHY. Linda Wolf Black, Alois Spang Participated in Ceremony

Grass Price Up, as Cattle Drop
By DONNA CHIA
"With the price of beef at 20 cents, cattlemen will go broke even if nothing is changed for grass," said BIA range management specialist Dick White, after last Wednesday's meeting on cattle grazing from far allotted lands.

A tentative price of 20¢ per animal unit per month has been established for the new lease period beginning Jan. 1, 1975. This is up from the present $12.4.

BIA Superintendent Alois Spang has the final say on grazing rates on allotted management lands, which make up 25 percent of reservation lands. This includes allotted and purchased by the Northern Cheyenne tribe under the federal land acquisition program (under this program, the tribe agreed to collect the same rental rate as for allotted land).

The Tribal Council is responsible for fixing grazing rates on the remaining 75 percent of reservation lands. The $1-per-animal-unit month fee was estimated by the BIA and office spokesman in late winter and spring, when beef prices were much higher than they are now, White explained.

Nita Harris is a graduate of St. Labre School and a sophomore physical education major at Oklahoma City University. She is working this summer at the St. Labre dental clinic.

In early August, she will compete nationally during the Livestock Show in Billings, sponsored by Tribal Cattleman Edwin Dahl. This was her first competition.

There were other queens and former queens at the pow-wow and attendance at the pow-wow, Pansie Houschens getting ready to rug over her horse on the Big Horn river from White River Cheyenne Pow-Crew Agency. Reservation riders stood tight guard on the four-day festival.

Some 2,400 calves were seven-day-old calves were ridden to another until the job was done. The old wagon, was roundup wagon moving from the reservation to the reservation. Its hoofs once covered with mud, it was now clean and shiny. A team of Black Wolf's mother.

Ex-Sheriff Followed Chuckwagon 30 Years
"See this a real treat to slip over," George Burns slipped on a hooded rein bar made the used for 25 years on the children of the chuckwagons. He counted county sheriff for 14 years and retired state livestock inspector. Burns worked the wagon as roundup boss. He served over 30 years as Northern Cheyenne livestock inspector.

He was a family reunion of sorts, too, with Mrs. Young here from Three Forks, his niece Pat and her husband Dick Lewis here from Torrington, Calif., and George's daughter and son-in-law from Ulin, Mo. and Mrs. Ren McLaughlin.

George retired several years ago to Ulin, after several years as a state livestock inspector.

A'tome, Northern Cheyenne Press

Telephone 471-444
Lame Deer, Montana

Editorial Board

James King, chairman
Roger Old Moke, vice-chairman
Eugene Fish
Nathan Tallish
Fred Standing Elk
Robert Burns
Herbert Boardman
Red Moran
Beverly Garry
Squadron Manager
Eugene Fisher
Vernon Fisher
Kittie Riser
Publisher (voice monthly in Lame Deer, Wyo.)
Material herein is copyrighted and may not be reprinted without permission.

Distribution is free on the Northern Cheyenne reservation. Other subscriptions are $3.00 per year. A'tome is published every other week.

All Links Held Strong

Like so many parts of a jigsaw puzzle, details of planning an event the size of the Tribal Pow-Wow somehow meshed into a brilliant production last week.

The combined efforts of many people and organizations were drawn into the work and the planning.

Tribal projects such as NYC and Mainstream proved their worth. A water system had to be installed at the pow-wow grounds. There were benches to be constructed, sign work—and daily clean-up after thousands of people.

NYC Peanut crews picked up trash and stored it for hauling away, under the watchful eye of James King Sr. (The Peanut crews, incidentally, also have been clearing roadways of trash, handicapped by hawksnests of the NYC truck.)

Unpaid hours went into planning alone, for Chairman Rudolf King Sr., President Allen Rowland and many councilmen. From people scheduling to wiring the speaker system, each detail required careful effort.

But the visitors—and they came from many states—went home pleased with a well-run pow-wow.

Safety Guidelines Apply to

Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, he said, very few inspectors are made representatives of tribes and in their best interests of tribes they must set up safety programs for their employees.

Even though Indian tribes are subject to the

Johnson Drug

Revoll

Markham

Prescriptions

Hardin

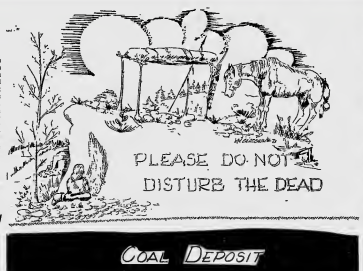

665-1602

On the Navajo reservation, he said, "They didn't put a safety post just to employ someone. They did it because accidents were costing money, employees were breaking vehicles right and left."

EMMETT BOWMAN
Safety Post

Ashland Complete Tune Up

Conoco

Letters to Editor

Pentecostal Minister

Leaves for Oklahoma

The Rev. Harold Elliott, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God in Lame Deer for the past two years, is leaving for Oklahoma.

Mary Jane Ambler, Lame Deer, said she has been with him for two years and has been very happy to have him in Lame Deer.

He will be replaced by the Rev. Harold Elliott, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God in Lame Deer.

He will be replaced by the Rev. Harold Elliott, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God in Lame Deer.

He will be replaced by the Rev. Harold Elliott, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God in Lame Deer.

He will be replaced by the Rev. Harold Elliott, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God in Lame Deer.

Other Tribes

The defeat of Dr. George A. Carter at the Little Bighorn 80 years ago was celebrated last week in a dinner party in Washington D.C.

The National Congress of American Indians, the date: June 25.

Awards for passage of the Mesquero Reservation Act were presented to Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D. Wyo.) and U.S. Rep. Lloyd Mead (D. Wash.).

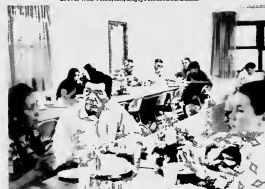

Fort Totten, N.D. Rockies on 27th and 28th.

V8 '28's

6 cylinder '24's

VIRGINIA TOWNS PRESENTS FLAG TO LEROY PINE Crow Wolf Vite, Ed, Edgys Rinal Best Dinner

HOUSING AUTHORITY BOARD, TRIBAL COUNCIL MEMBERS DINE

Some 90 People Helped Observe U.S. 91st Lame Deer

HOUSING AUTHORITY BOARD, TRIBAL COUNCIL MEMBERS DINE

Results Are Seen in Health, Education, Economic Advancement

Lame Deer Servicenter

Ice Sandwiches

Coleman Gas Propane

Beadwork Fishing Supplies

Growing History Marked In Dinner Held for Pines

"The Northern Cheyenne have been first in many valuable areas, and now you have, there will be one new house for every 10 tribal house for every 10 tribal house for every 10 tribal

house for every 10 tribal house for every 10 tribal

house for every 10 tribal house for every 10 tribal

Other Tribes

Opposition to the Central Arizona reclamation project is mounting.

Key objectives, there is not enough water in the Colorado river, taxpayers will be paying more than is received—and the situation has vastly changed since 20 years ago when the project was first planned.

Arizona crews have until the end of the year to sign water contracts.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

The construction of the Central Arizona Project is now under way, with specific jobs still done by the buyer, Pinal's "several county" (work continues) is $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million. His monthly payments totaled $1.2 million, but his $1.2 million.

SAMSONITE LUGGAGE

is A Gift The Graduate Will Cherish

Complete Selection Of Other Gifts, Too

For The Graduate

Federated Store

Lodge Grass and Hardin

Morissette's

Insurance

Now In Colstrip!

Call 748-2553

(FT Union Inn)

For Appointment

The Representative Will Be There

Monday Afternoons.

All Forms Of Insurance

Complete Selection Of Other Gifts, Too

For The Graduate

Federated Store

Lodge Grass and Hardin

GARY SKINS OUT A DICKER
As Father Gregor Whitman Advises

Giveaways Do Honor

"Let's do away with the word 'should' and insert in its place 'will' — we will retain our culture and we will determine our own destiny," so spoke Donald Der Nove, manager of the Crow dance team, as giveaway gifts were set up.

"Our young people should never lose sight of their heritage and we, as Indians, should determine our own destiny."

Announcer Herbert Berchman read an English translation of the Crow language for those at the Northern Cheyenne Tribal Pow-Wow.

Giveaways were led off by Margaret Red Cherry Rain Above, a direct descendant of those she honored: Chief Littlewolf, who led the Northern Cheyenne back to the Montana homeland, Wild Hog, war, singer, doctor and regis; and William Red Cherry, former tribal chairman.

Her three sons danced in honor of their mothers.

A traditional cup-opening ceremony was given for Tribal Youth, with giveaways by her grandmothers, Terry Sams and Grace Lamberband. William Little Coyote won the special song, attending the ceremony.

Other giveaways included that for the late Maroon Mexican-Cheyenne by his daughter and concubine, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, and his son, James King Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolf Root of Ashland held a giveaway for their daughter Leola, outgoing pow-wow queen and new Miss Indian Montana.

And a giveaway for the joy of a new child, Tribal Secretary Emma Sams' son Don, celebrated his first birthday. The intertwined family made these presentations.

LYNNIE CASUAL AS TENTERS SAVOR FORMAL AND INFORMAL MARCH 22 OF POW-WOW
Left to right, Tom Rowland, Selma and Rosette Big Head with Rosette and Lennie

Home's a Teepee or Tent at Pow-Wow

Singing until dawn, breakfast in the open-air, dancing before and after the tenters—all is as much a part of pow-wow camping as are the horses, Indian music and food.

And for many, a pow-wow just wouldn't seem right without the carefree freedom of camping out.

When content dancing stops, drums of "40ers" take up the beat. Lightning strikes across the path of a falling star.

A brief windy rainstorm here draws some tent rigging the second night of the Northern Cheyenne Tribal Pow-wow this year. Dancer Paul Armstrong laughs about being surprised by the wind in the middle of a costume change.

Part of the charm of camping is the challenge of making do with unexpected

LYNNIE CHECKS COFFEE POT
Sore's as Updowdowns Wagon

problems.

For example, the little old and gager Rosette Big Head's Charlene Little Oldman, when she grandmothers turn it down the wing.

And in Anna Chisholm's shallow gift, it makes an elegant gift: a soapstone horse for the smoke.

freedom. Merlin Lundy, Ivy Timber, Johnathan Lundy and Rito Timber entertain themselves and friends.

Ruth and Ed Little Bear of Alberta, Alberta, renew second with the horseback beauty robes of White Swan, Wash. Mrs. Sonja Robe carries her baby in a laced cradle board.

Kameth and Ed have just dismounted themselves from a contest dance, in the faint realization of pow-wow sportsmanship. Even the judges hadn't noticed when they overstepped the drum.

Ed and Ed have just dismounted themselves from a contest dance, in the faint realization of pow-wow sportsmanship. Even the judges hadn't noticed when they overstepped the drum.

Pipeline Decision Pending

LAKE, Wyo. — A decision whether a $2.2-billion coal-to-gas pipeline from Big Horn, Mont., to the Gulf of Mexico is feasible is being decided by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The decision could be decided by the U.S. Supreme Court. The decision could be decided by the U.S. Supreme Court.

And a giveaway for the joy of a new child, Tribal Secretary Emma Sams' son Don, celebrated his first birthday. The intertwined family made these presentations.

And a giveaway for the joy of a new child, Tribal Secretary Emma Sams' son Don, celebrated his first birthday. The intertwined family made these presentations.

JOHN RED CLOUD PREPARES OPEN-AIR BREAKFAST FOR CHILDREN

Pow-Wow

(Continued from Page 1.)

Armstrong of Albuquerque third and $100, and Gus Robelmat of Seattle third and $75. The women's traditional buckskin dance $100 prize was won by Dorothy Hilde of Lanes Deer.

Lily Rose of Small Bay Camp, Alberta, Canada, won second in the buckskin dance, Marlene Little Coyote of Seattle, Okla., fourth. Grandstand dance, carrying no prize of $25, was won by Blossom Young Bear of Winnipeg, Okla.

Alice Littlehead of Lanes Deer danced her way into second place, with Vivian Myrta Lander Charge of Houston, S.D., placed fourth.

Women's fancy shawl dance, also carrying a $100 prize, was won by Gladys Little Bear of Lehigh, Okla. Joyce Magpie of Billings was second, Gladys Young Bear of Gary Owen third, and Corinne Winstall of Elkhart, Wyo., fourth.

The heavy and intricate hoop dance, carrying a $100, $50 and $75 prize, was won by Joe Rose of Small Bay Camp, Alberta, and Kala Kalketah, both of Seattle, came in second and third place, respectively.

Team dancing, carrying $75 and $200 top prize, was won in the men's division by Willie Rasmussen's team with 281 points, and in the women's division by Vivian Kalketah's team with 280 points.

Chore Boy Mary Harris' team placed second with 250 points and was $100. There was Joe Kalketah's team, and fourth Billie Rose above.

Second in women's team dancing was Rosita Rose's dancers of Lanes Deer, 283 points and $100. Pam Rasmussen's team was third, 261 points and $100, with Mary Lene Winstall's team in fourth with 254 points and $50.

Indian dancing experts among the very young was displayed in both girls' and boys' dancing.

Alberta McPherson of Seattle, Okla., won first in small-tyrps, ages up to 11; David Rose of Lanes Deer was first for boys.

Charles Fingerprint of Crow Agency won second for girls, with Debbie Waters third, and Michelle Nell Abroad of Lodge Grass fourth.

Talent Bank's New Project

Setting up a talent skills bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

Dancing is needed back in the community, and the NAI is planning a talent bank with expertise drawn from various tribes is the current project of Madeline Sams, president of the National American Indians (NAI).

ARENA DIRECTOR GEORGE HARRIS PREPARES PARADES FOR

This Was His Fifth Year in the Exciting, Exhausting Profession.

fourth, Duke Little White Wolf of Lanes Deer placed second for boys, Elliott Rooley Robe of White Swan, Wash., third, and Al Red Horse of Oklahoma City fourth.

Marlene Little Coyote of Seattle placed first place for boys, age 12 to 16. Duane Spawer of Lanes Deer was second, Duane Quaker third and Gladys Little Coyote fourth.

JUNIOR CHUMETTE AND IVAN RUSSELL RIDE ABOVE CLOUDS
It Wouldn't Be a Pow-Wow Without Boys on Horses

THERE WERE TIMES FOR RENEWING FRIENDSHIPS TOO
Easy to See Why Pow-Wow Great's Popular in Summer

PARADE CAR DRAPE IN U.S. FLAG HONORS DEAD
Savannah's Para de Clouds, Then Electrical Dance Grounds

